Dear Comments Clerk Texas Railroad Commission,

Gas flaring causes air pollution that is harmful to Texans. Medical experts like the American Lung Association and the American Heart Association have documented clear evidence that industrial air pollution such as from oil and gas production contributes to chronic health conditions that many of our families and friends suffer from here in Texas.

I want Texans to be protected from pollution from gas flaring by reducing production by the companies with the worst records of flaring in our state.

Sincerely,
Raisch Tomlanovich
